Massive Growth

2021 has been a story of growth, not in numbers of new companies, which went down, but in numbers of money and employment. The growth is across most companies, but two stand out.

This year, we have seen a major acquisition: Honeywell buying CQC and forming a new company Cambridge Quantum, promising significant investment in the UK. ArQit SPAC deal this year is to provide up to $400m of gross proceeds to Arqit and includes funds from a fully-committed PIPE of approximately $70m.

We collated data with input from the UK quantum community & desk research. We strive to be accurate, but acknowledge that it is impossible and are correcting data constantly. Sometimes, we adopt our definitions & assumptions, resulting in differences to previous years, for example the exclusion of subsidiary of a US company.
